I am going to the Metropolis Performing Arts Centre to see a show.

I might take a car, bus, train, bike, or walk to see a show.

There might be other people around me, and I might have to wait.

If I take a car, I can park at the garage on Highland Avenue, on the ground floor.

It might be dark inside. I can go right on Highland Avenue and right again on Campbell Street to get to Metropolis.

When I get to the theater, I will walk through double doors.

I will pass a restaurant. It might be loud.

Then, I will get to the lobby. There is a box office and a screen, and there might be a lot of people.

Everyone needs a ticket to go to the show. I can get a ticket at the box office. There might be a line.

There will be staff working at the show if I need help. I can ask any of them for help.

I will show my ticket to the ushers, who will help me find my seat. If I have tickets on a phone or with a barcode, my tickets will get scanned. It might make a beeping noise. If I bring a paper ticket, the usher will take my ticket and tear off the stub.

I will be careful walking to my seat in the theater.

Every person in the theater gets their own seat. Each seat has a letter and number. I will pick one seat to sit in.

Sometimes, there might be a stranger next to me or in front of me. If I need more space, I can move, or I can ask, "Can you move please? I need some space."

If I need to go to the bathroom, I can ask someone I know for help. When I flush the toilet, it might make a loud noise.

If it gets too loud, I can ask for help finding a quiet place like the lobby to calm down.

When the show ends, there might be clapping. The performers will take a bow.

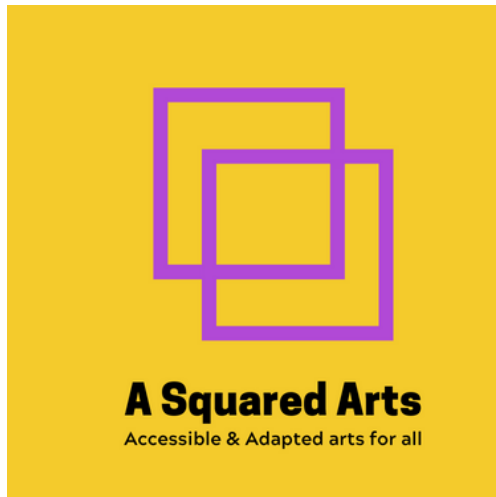

After the show is over, everyone will leave and go back out through the lobby at the same time. I will be careful. If I am with family or friends, we can walk together.
